FOOTNOTES FOR MONTHLY REPORT OF JUNE 1948:

- * In addition to this figure final action has been completed on fifty cases involving only acquittals. Also included in this figure is one case (000-Mauthauson-12) with one accused of Polish nationality. This accused was recently released to the Polish authorities, and the case therefore was not reviewed. Also included is one accused who died from natural causes subsequent to the trial (12-1833) and whose sentence was therefore not reviewed.
-  Included in D 7 also as sentence was term of imprisonment and a fine.
-  Sentence of Maximilian HERMANN to death (commuted to 10 years), Case No. 12-1542, and sentence of Hans STAUDINGER to death (commuted to 10 years), Case No. 12-1542, ordered not executed inasmuch as these men have been hung pursuant to death sentences in another case. (Case No. 12-1067).

NOTE: Each of the following accused were tried in two cases:

FOOTNOTES FOR MOMPHLY REPORT OF JUNE 1948:

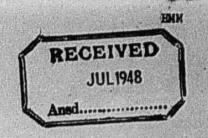

- * In addition to this figure final action has been completed on fifty cases involving only acquittels. Also included in this figure is one case (OOO-Mauthausen-12) with one accused of Polish nationality. This accused was recently released to the Polish authorities, and the case therefore was not reviewed. Also included is one accused who died from natural causes subsequent to the trial (12-1833) and whose sentence was therefore not reviewed.
-  Included in D 7 also as sentence was term of imprisonment and a fine.
-  Sentence of Maximilian HERMANN to death (commuted to 10 years), Case No. 12-1542, and sentence of Hans STAUDINGER to death (commuted to 10 years), Case No. 12-1542, ordered not executed inasmuch as these men have been hung pursuant to death sentences in another case. (Case No. 12-1067).

NOTE: Each of the following accused were tried in two cases:

AUSTRALIANS CONVICT 541 OUT OF 775 WAR CRIMES DEFENDANTS

Australian authorities have tried 775 war crime suspects and sentenced 139 of them to die, SCAP's legal Section reported to-day.

Some of the accused were Koreans and Formosans employed by the Japanese Army, but the large majority were Japanese nationals.

The figures, which are as of April 5, do not include suspects tried in Japan, according to Lt. Colonel D.L.B. Goslett, Chief of the Australian Division of Legal Section.

The defendants were tried in 260 cases before Australian Military Courts at Sangapore; Rabaul; New Britain; Weiwak; New Quinea; Darwin, Australia, and Morotai Island.

Of the 775, 234 were acquitted and 541 were sentended - 139 of them to death, 19 to life, two to hard labor terms ranging from 25 to 50 years, 198 to terms ranging from 10 to 25 years, and 183 to terms of less than 10 years. All 139 sentenced to death already have been executed.

Three hundred and six offenses for which the suspected war criminals were tried involved murder of Australian and Allied nationals.

Recently all pending trials of Japanese war crime suspects, previously tried in Singapore and the Southwest Pacific, were transferred to Hong Kong where they will be tried by Australian Military Courts. Many Japanese war criminals have been tried by British authorities also in Hong Kong.

Suspected perpetrators of crimes committed against Australians in Japan during the war will continue to be tried at Yokohama by Eighth Army Military Commissions.
